Time Running Out For Xmas Mailing

Despite an increasingly heavy load of Christmas mail, the Antioch post office is keeping up with the deluge.

Postmaster Joe Wolf warns Antioch residents that time is running out for Christmas mailing. "All out-of-town Christmas gifts and greetings should be in the mails by Wednesday, Dec. 21, to be sure they will arrive at their destination on time," Wolf says.

The Antioch postoffice has put on eight extra employees for the Christmas season. Four of the extras are carrying rural routes, with the routes divided so that each man has less mileage to cover. Four are helping out in the postoffice.

So far, the busiest day at the Antioch postoffice was Monday, Dec. 12, when 32,000 pieces of mail passed through the postoffice. This was all outgoing mail. There is no way of counting the incoming mail.

The normal load of mail is 5,000 pieces a day. Dec. 5, there were 9,000 pieces of mail processed and the number per day has risen steadily each day. Postmaster Wolf expects that the peak will be reached this weekend.

The postoffice is open more hours to accommodate the Christmas rush. Weekday hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. until Dec. 23. The office is also open all day Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 24, the postoffice will be open till noon.

Nationwide, it is expected that more than eight billion pieces of mail will be delivered just before Christmas—a new record.

Give Photos Of Santa & Children

Children can have their picture taken with Santa Claus at the State Bank of Antioch Saturday, Dec. 17.

About 1,000 children had their picture taken with the jolly old gent last Saturday. The pictures are polaroid, so are given to the parents immediately in an attractive frame.

This is the seventh year the State Bank has supplied the free picture-taking service at Christmas time. However, this is the first year the pictures have been taken in the bank lobby.

Pictures will be taken this Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the bank lobby.

Tavern Rezoning Stirs Up A Storm

A Chicago couple who recently purchased a tavern at Fox Lake found themselves the center of a neighborhood feud of long standing last week.

The animosity of residents of the subdivision where the tavern, the Hide-Away Resort, is located, came out at a zoning hearing in the old village hall in Antioch last week.

The new owners of the property are Mr. and Mrs. William Strzelecki, formerly of Chicago. Before the hearing ended, both Mrs. Strzelecki and her daughter were weeping and at one point

Mrs. Strzelecki rushed to ward the door crying that she "didn't want to live among these people."

A question as to the legality of the hearing came up early in the proceedings, because the petition for rezoning came from the residents of the subdivision, not the owner of the property. Gerald Snyder, attorney for the Strzeleckis, asked that the hearing be dismissed on the grounds that the petition must come from the property owners. Clinton O. Thompson, a retired lawyer and a resident of the subdivision, said that the petition could legally be presented by a government official and he understood that Lloyd (Red) Murrie supported the petition.

Snyder objected that the provisions for filing an ordinance provided that a governmental agency, not an official, could file such a petition. Zoning board attorney William Sachse said that in his opinion Murrie, as chairman of the board of supervisors, could file such a petition.

Murrie was present and asked to be sworn in so that he could testify. He stated that he supported the petition of the subdivision property owners to re-zone the property.

Under questioning by Snyder, Murrie said that he had not signed the petition, but that he would have signed it if asked to.

Sachse ruled that Murrie's intent was sufficient, and Board Chairman J. C. Cadwallader cut off further argument about the legality of the petition by stating that the board would accept their attorney's advice and proceed with the hearing. It was not up to the zoning board to decide the legal status of the petition, he said, and that matter could be argued out later.

Herbert Gentsen, who stated he lived across the road from the Hide-Away, and is proprietor of Grass Lake Lumber Co., was the first witness for the petitioners. People patronizing the tavern, he said, race up and down the roads all night, making noise, and using profane language. Beer trucks break up the roads in spring, he said, and residents must pay to repair the roads.

The resort, Gentsen said, depreciates the value of nearby property, and is a public nuisance.

Gentsen said that when he bought his property there was only a small store where the tavern-resort is now located. The tavern was zoned UR-2 and was non-conforming after zoning was introduced to the county. It was zoned CR, making tavern operation legal, under the recently passed zoning ordinance.

Raymond Reich, who said he purchased property near the tavern in 1949, said he bought the property because it was secluded and quiet. Tavern patrons, he said, threw beer cans and litter out of boats they rented at the Hide-Away. He has had two break-ins at his home in a year, he said, and felt that the undesirable drawn to the area by the resort were the reason.

Tracey L. Shaw, said she built her home near the resort in 1925. It was a small grocery store then, she said, but started selling liquor in 1933. Many unpleasant things have happened in the area since, she said, and the place "has been a heart-ache."

Fred Scharlau complained of disorderly tavern patrons and said his pier was wrecked July 4.

Bertha Fleugel, secretary of Indian Point Improvement Association said the community had built roads at their own expense, without help from businesses, and had maintained them, while trucks tore up the roads. The original owner of the tavern, the father of Charles Holmes, had been allowed to establish his business by consent of the other home owners, she said, but since Charles Holmes took it over it had become a nuisance.

Mrs. George Brown estimated that between 200 and 300 cars a day, on week ends, disrupted the quiet of the subdivision. Harold K. Schlorer said the place was an eyesore.

Clinton O. Thompson testified that the place was in deplorable condition. However, he said, he had talked to the Strzeleckis; and they had assured him that they intended to improve the place, and had plans showing the planned improvements.

Thompson said he felt it would be better to allow the property to keep the CR zoning so that they could legally improve the buildings. If the place were restored to non-conforming status, no improvements could be made.

Charles Holmes, the former owner of the resort, said that he sold the tavern in July, 1965, to Dale Kittelson for $45,000. Kittelson testified that he sold the place to the Strzeleckis for $54,500, and that he felt the additional $9,500 was the result of the CR zoning.

Edmund Orlikowski, Chicago contractor, showed the zoning board plans for remodeling the upstairs living quarters of the tavern, putting aluminum siding on the exterior, canopies and picture windows. Work on the improvements have been started, he said, when it was halted by the filing of the petition.

Richard Bruser, bartender at the resort said that the tavern was usually closed by 10 p.m. during the week and 2 a.m. on weekends. There was no rowdiness or fighting in the place during the seven months he had worked there, he said.

Strzelecki said he and his wife had hoped to improve the place and run an orderly business. They had hoped to build a dining room and draw neighborhood trade, he said, but "after today, I don't know."

Attorney Gerald Snyder in his closing plea said that the question of rezoning his client's property involved everyone's Constitutional rights. His clients, he said, had purchased the property in good faith with the CR zoning, knowing nothing of past controversy or the recent rezoning.

The zoning board will make their recommendation on the matter at the next meeting of the county board.

Two Killed In Head-On Crash

Two Antioch men were killed, and the wife of one seriously injured, in a head-on crash on Route 173 west of Antioch Sunday night.

Jack L. Nelson, 30 years old, of 322 Depot St. in Antioch, was killed instantly in the crash. John M. Schram, Jr., 45 years old, of 905 Main St., Antioch, died about an hour after the accident in Victory Memorial Hospital.

Nelson's wife, Kathleen, 27 years old, received multiple injuries and is reported in serious condition in Victory Memorial Hospital.

The accident happened about one-half mile west of Rte. 59. Nelson's car was westbound, according to sheriff's deputies, and was driven by Mrs. Nelson. Schram's car, eastbound, apparently crossed over the center line when rounding a curve. The cars came to rest straddling the center line, jammed together by the impact.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday) for Mr. Nelson, at the St. Ignatius Episcopal Church in Antioch. Funeral services for Mr. Schram are being held today (Thursday).

Jack Nelson was born Jan. 19, 1936, in Antioch and had lived here all his life except for time spent in the U. S. Air Force from Jan. 17, 1955, until Nov. 17, 1958. He married Kathleen Frey in Toledo, Ohio. He was a member of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church in Antioch. He had worked for Abbott Laboratories in North Chicago for 6 years and was a foreman there.

He is survived by his wife, Kathleen; one son, Lester; two daughters, Elizabeth Ann and Victoria; his father, Lester L. Nelson; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Effie Nelson; one brother, George E. Nelson, Antioch; two sisters, Mrs. William (Jane) Meyer of Antioch and Mrs. Floyd (Charlene) McKinney of Abilene, Texas.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, at St. Ignatius Episcopal Church in Antioch with the Rev. Theodore Bessette officiating.

John M. Schram, Jr., was born July 25, 1921, in Chicago, where he lived until moving to Antioch about six years ago. He had served in the U. S. Army from Oct. 31, 1942 until March 11, 1943. Mr. Schram was employed by Gefco Mfg. in Antioch for two years. He married Laverne Fik on Jan. 22, 1944, in Chicago.

Survivors are his wife Laverne; one brother, James V. Schram, Chicago; three sisters, Mrs. Steven (June) Kupstis, Des Plaines; Mrs. Robert (Audrey) Browning, Clinton, Mo.; and Mrs. Veronica Brabec, Des Plaines, and his parents, John and Viola Schram, Chicago. He was preceded in death by a brother, William.

Funeral services are at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch.

The Annual Christmas Pageant of the Lake Villa Methodist Church will be presented in the Church Sanctuary Sunday, December 18, at 4 p.m. This dramatic portrayal of the birth of Christ will be presented in a different manner than in years past, making possible a larger cast and using an entirely new musical score.

Appearing with Gabriel as Angels will be Shanda Hester, Denise Prather, Janice Prather, and Nancy Prather, with Cynthia and Diana Mellen as Cherubs.

Christmas Concert At Wilmot High

In keeping with tradition, Wilmot High School's band and chorus will present a Christmas concert on Dec. 19 in the school auditorium.

The chorus, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Arveson, will present their selections in many different groupings.

The first group to sing will be the Girls' Chorus, composed of freshmen, sophomore, and junior girls. They will sing "Infant Holy, Birth of a King, and He Is Born."

Performing next on the program will be the Senior Girls' Chorus. Featuring Donna Brown as the soloist, they will perform "Gesu Bambino." Their second song, "What Ya Gonna Call Your Pretty Little Baby?" will feature both Donna Brown and Bonnie Koehni as soloists.

The Senior Girls' last song is "Ring Your Merry Bells." For a change of sound, the Mixed Chorus, made up of both boys and girls, will present "Sing Men and Angels Sing, March of the Three Kings, and Christmas Comes Again."

The band alone, under the direction of Mr. William Gannett, will then play "Green-Sleeves, Sleigh Ride, An Old English Christmas," and "March of the Tops."

A wood-wind trio, composed of Roy Nelson, Kurt Capelli, and Carol Ellsworth will present the song "Dance of the Mirlitones" for the audience also.

All of the chorus groups, with the band's accompaniment, will also sing and play "Three Songs for Christmas."

Accompanying the chorus groups are Doris Rasch, Walter Priebe, and Nancy Kuebler.

Mr. Arveson summed up his hopes for the concert when he stated, "If the students sing up to their potential, it should be a fine concert."

The program will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. in the Wilmot auditorium. The tickets are available from all chorus and band members.

LAWLESSNESS

"Never in the history of America has such lawlessness and disrespect for law and order reached such levels as prevail today," declares California State Chamber of Commerce President Joseph A. Moore, Jr. "The time has come for every public official to take a firm stand and implement action which will make the streets of America safe once again and which will provide protection for life, limb and property."

A burglary occurs every 40 seconds in the United States.

Vandalism At Christmas

Two small boys in Antiöch obviously do not believe in being good at Christmas time. Three homeowners on Orchard Street can attest to this fact.

The two small boys, (their ages are guessed at 10 to 12 years old by a lady who saw them), tore bulbs from Christmas decorations and smashed them at three homes. The vandalism occurred at about ten minutes before 6 a.m. last Thursday. At the second house they "hit". The lady of the house, looking out, saw them but could not identify them.

The lady who saw them wonders what children were doing out on the streets at this hour, and if their parents have any idea of the depredations committed by their sons.

In all, about $25.00 worth of bulbs were smashed. The youngsters tore the strings of lights down when they had trouble removing bulbs.

Christmas decorations add a touch of beauty to the town, a festive Christmas spirit to be enjoyed by all. It's too bad that at this time of year, any child should wish to destroy beauty and mar the spirit of neighborly love of the season.

Whether or not the culprits are caught, we hope the homeowners remember that many happy children have enjoyed their Christmas decorations. We hope they replace them for the many who view them with pleasure, disregarding the unfortunate few who have not learned the lesson of Christmas.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DOURKIN

Judging from the confusion attending the change-over in the Sheriff's office and the County Treasurer's office, a good case can be made for a certain continuity in office.

In past years there was a smooth, automatic change-over in these offices because the big boss and his chief deputy swapped jobs and everyone knew well in advance who would sit in the big office and who would be No. 2.

County Treasurer Ray Sheahan expressed surprise that Chief Deputy Guy Lunn and Secretary Irene Nickell "walked out" on him, but actually Lunn publicly announced he was leaving the office effective Dec. 1.

The veteran treasurer's office staffer was in the office daily up to Dec. 1, so it is inconceivable that he and Sheahan did not have a chance to discuss his future role in the treasurer's office if he was to have one.

Sheahan's position is especially hard to understand since he is going into the office cold and could normally be expected to have his staff plans laid out well in advance.

He might have been reluctant to make any personnel plans prior to the primary last June, but once he captured the Republican nomination and was assured of election he had plenty of time to select a chief deputy and notify those he wanted to remain in the office.

Fortunately for Sheahan, all the key members of the treasurer's office staff remained on the job and carried on just as though there were no confusion in the office.

Sheriff Harold Scheskie's reluctance to name a chief deputy is more easily understood since he is familiar with the office through a quarter of a century association and can take his time about picking a No. 2 man.

Scheskie's announced reason for the delay, that he is "too busy" is a little weak, however, since he could eliminate many of his calls and callers by settling the chief deputy issue now instead of waiting for several more weeks.

Lake County legislators met with the Township Assessors Assn. of Lake County in North Chicago to discuss legislation desired by the township officers.

Also attending the meeting were Robert Bowman, chief spokesman for the Association of Collective Taxpayers, and Paul Hamer, the ACT attorney.

The legislators were somewhat surprised when neither man was called upon during a discussion of the county tax rate ceilings imposed by referendum at the last election since the ACT was the motivating force behind the rate voting.

According to State Representative John Matijevich, of North Chicago, the legislators were agreed that no special legislation will be required to provide the funds necessary to operate the county and even Cuba Supervisor Joseph P. Welch, who forecast economic disaster for the county in the wake of the election, admitted that no crisis is in the offing.

The assessors were relieved to learn they will not be expected to assess at 100 percent valuation to make up any deficits in county income and switched the discussion to more important subjects such as more pay for assessors.

The meeting was typical of sessions being held throughout the state with various groups inviting the legislators in to impress upon them the importance of new legislation which would help their particular groups.

If these organizations were to be labelled lobbies they would claim libel, but in truth most trade associations and professional groups are organized primarily to secure legislative advantage.

It is unlikely that a legislature could function without lobbyists who provide mountains of information on pending legislation, but the legislator must be careful to consider the source and the goal.

Speed was the number one cause of traffic accidents in 1965.

Caution! Xmas Spirit At Work

Christmas holidays are among the happiest of the year for most people. They also signal a period of greatly increased traffic accidents.

The rush and excitement of shopping, the hazards of biting winds, driving snow and slick roads combine to create extreme dangers for pedestrians and motorists.

Gerald W. Cavanagh, club president, said these suggestions for keeping the holidays safer, and happier for all:

—Don't drive and window shop at the same time.

—Don't pile packages on the front seat of your car where they may topple and distract the driver. Don't pile packages on back window ledges, either, where they may hamper vision.

—Never cross streets in the middle of the block. And don't carry so many packages that they interfere with watching where you are going.

—Take it easy when driving or walking. There's more danger of an accident when you are in a hurry or excited than when you're main calm.

—If you take home the family Christmas tree in your car, make sure you can see around the branches. If you put it in your trunk, close the lid so it does not block your vision to the rear.

—Be courteous.

—Keep all windows clear of fog, snow and ice.

—If roads are slippery, allow yourself sufficient time to get to and from your destination with safety.

What did Santa bring for you?
A doll that walks, sleeps and cries,
And even winks her glassy eyes!

Little boy with eyes of brown,
Did Santa bring you that big clown?

That, and a train of cars so big,
And a steam shovel that really can dig!

Poor Mom so tired and sad,
What can Santa do to make you glad?
As long as my children get a toy,
That's all I need to give me joy!

And dear old Dad so big and good,
Did Santa treat you as he should?
Well now, all that I can really say,

Cermak Triplets Are 9 Years Old

The Cermak Triplets, Mary, Joseph and Ann, celebrated their ninth birthday December 5. The triplets are the only "three-of-a-kind" in Antioch, and their birth created quite a stir nine years ago.

The children attend St. Peter's School, where Mary and Ann are cheerleaders. They're happy children, says their father, Charles J. Cermak, Antioch realtor, and very self-sufficient. They enjoy playing together and can have a good time without the presence of other children.

Social Notes

By Del Jahneke

Under the impression that they would be attending a sister's birthday party, Mr. and Mrs. James Balsamello, Beach Grove, were really surprised to find themselves the guests of honor at a 25th wedding anniversary party, held at Victoria's in Chicago, on Sunday, December 4th.

The Balsamellos' three children, Miss Barbara, James, Jr., and Mrs. David White, had been secretly planning this Silver Anniversary reception for some time. Despite the fact that Sunday was a miserable one, with icy and hazardous driving conditions, 100 friends and relatives braved the elements, coming from Hammond, Ind., Kankakee, Antioch, Cross Lake, Wis., and Chicago. After an Italian style dinner, a mock wedding ceremony was hilariously enacted, and there was dancing to a four-piece orchestra for the remainder of the evening.

Another reason the Balsamellos were so pleasantly surprised—their 25th wedding anniversary is on Dec. 18th. Happy anniversary, folks!

The Robert Anderson family of Grass Lake hosted an ice-skating party at their home with Pastor and Mrs. Bernard Fosmark; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Anderson; the Robert H. Dunlap, Jr. family; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stockstill; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jahneke, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson as their guests. Good exercise, good fun, and good food provided a good time for all!

David Francisco, son of Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Don Francisco, Jr., entertained 20 guests at his home on Saturday, Dec. 10. This was a Christmas supper party, with gifts exchanged, games played, and dancing. Red Carnations, red candles, etc., created a festive yuletide atmosphere for this party.

Mental Health Aux. Plans Projects

Plans were made for future activities at a meeting of the Antioch Mental Health Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Edmund Vos recently.

The Antioch Mental Health Benefit Ball will be held at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center Officer's Club on April 14, 1967. Music for dancing will be by King Jaros and his band. Charles Cermak of Cermak Realtors will sponsor George Jaros' eleven-piece band. More details of the ball will be announced later.

Mrs. Robert Lubkeman announced the Antioch Woman's Club has chosen the Mental Health Auxiliary as its Community Service Project. As its project, the Auxiliary will be entered in a contest sponsored by Sears, Roebuck and Co. The Woman's Club will assist the Auxiliary by helping raise money and by volunteering for mental health projects over a two-year period. At the end of this time, the progress of the Community Service Project will be judged. First prize in the contest is $15,000.

Thomas E. Smith, psychologist for the Special Education District of Lake County, was the guest speaker. Mr. Smith spoke about the ways a mental health volunteer group could provide services for the mentally or emotionally ill. He encouraged the group to learn about mental disorders. He will assist the group in its next program by supplying an outline that explains various types of mental illness and demonstrating actual cases by means of a tape recorder.

Mrs. Lubkeman announced that the only psychiatric hospital ward in Lake County will be opening soon in St. Therese Hospital. On Jan. 10, 1967, at 1:00 p.m., a meeting will be held at the Waukegan Public Library. Sister Xavier of St. Therese Hospital will speak of the opportunities for volunteer services in the psychiatric ward. There will be questions, discussions, and refreshments. Antioch Mental Health Auxiliary members were urged to attend.

The next Auxiliary meeting will be announced.

Rainbow Girls Initiated

Shower For Bride-To-Be

In a setting of white wedding bells and rice favors a surprise wedding shower was held for Miss Beth Murphy at the home of Mrs. Paul Blomquist, Sunset Drive, Lindenhurst. Miss Murphy will wed Mr. Richard Folk of Saybrook, Illinois, December 17, at 2:00 p.m. in Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church, Lindenhurst.

The hostesses, Mrs. Blomquist and Mrs. Ruth Tuttle, entertained with games. Winners of the games were Mrs. Lois Flanagan, Mrs. Dee Flint, and Mrs. Alta Henry. Many useful and beautiful gifts were received by the bride-to-be.

Miss Murphy is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Albert Murphy, Lindenhurst.

STILL HOSPITALIZED

Roy Frasier was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad last Thursday. He is reported to be improving.

Weekends are the most dangerous driving periods.

Children Enjoy "Rumpelstiltskin"

The children who attended last weekend's performance of Rumpelstiltskin — and a goodly number of adults — were apparently entranced by the fairy tale.

Plenty of action, good lighting and background music, plus the talented direction of Valerie Hunley, turned a story into a living experience. Jay Horton was not the boy Antioch knows, but a misshapen little man with a black beard, greedy thoughts, and a very bad temper.

Geri Duncan, who played Mother Hulda, handled a difficult role adeptly. She was truly an ugly, witch-like old crone who influenced and even frightened Rumpelstiltskin.

Heather Hunley as the Miller's daughter who married the prince and became a Queen swayed the audience from laughter to tears. Josef Hunley and Shirley Jensen as the Miller and his wife were delightfully funny in their characterizations of the dotting parents who were so carried away with pride in their daughter that they were sure she could do anything.

Steve Krotz was a handsome and tender Prince who would have given his life for his bride-to-be. The young audience enjoyed the sword fight between the Prince and the two palace guards (Marty Luski and Gary Strahan).

Homer LaPlant was a delightful king, and then a proud grandfather. Marie Jasien was a beautiful King's daughter, and Mary Lulofs and Carol Brandy were ladies-in-waiting. Roberta Liberty played the nurse of the son of the young king.

The last two performances of Rumpelstiltskin will be presented this weekend, Dec. 17 and 18, starting at 2 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre on Main St. in Antioch. Tickets may be reserved by calling Vivian Mapleshorpe at 395-3613.

Steve Krotz presents a betrothal gift to his bride-to-be, Heather Hunley, while his father, the King, played by Homer LaPlant looks on. The scene is from Rumpelstiltskin.

Christmas Gifts & Where To Find Them

If you're in doubt as to what to give her for Christmas, you can get a lot of ideas just by wandering through your local stores, looking over the merchandise. In case you don't have time for this, we did it for you. Here's a list of some of the gift items you can find for HER in Antioch.

FOR HER, FROM BARNSTABLE'S

If she's feminine, she loves pretty clothes, whether she's two years old or a grandmother. You can find them in all sizes, from infant's through adult's, at Barnstable's Dept. Store.

For women, they have a wide selection of skirts, blouses, dresses and slacks. They'd love one of the new "glitter" dresses that are being shown so much this year, in everything from suits to semi-formals.

No teenager ever had enough "poor boys." You can't go wrong if you get her one. Pants suits will be worn right on into spring, and some of them are three-piece — jacket, skirt and slacks — to make them really versatile.

Lovely robes, in all fabrics and colors, fill Barnstable's racks and are sure to please most women. Costume jewelry, hand bags, stockings, lovely lingerie, are gifts that every woman can use and enjoy.

Blouses, from the very feminine to tailored for the woman who works, and sweaters and shells, in all fabrics and colors, are sure to please any woman.

FOR HER, AT GIBBS & JENSEN

Holiday glitter sprinkles the racks at Gibbs & Jensen's, with even glitter pail-ley on hand to brighten her holiday season.

Very feminine, dressy blacks and colors with long chiffon sleeves are very much "in." Suits range from wools and knits to dressy, knits that look like crochet work.

Sweaters and poor boys in every price range are always welcome gifts. So are the skirts and slacks, many of them coming in colors to match the sweater.

For car coats or sports, Gibbs have a variety of of suedes, artificial furs, corduroys, and ski coats.

Very frilly white blouses, with lace cuffs and jabots, will please the feminine heart. If she doesn't like frills, there are lots of more tailored blouses.

If she wears slacks, you can find them at Gibbs & Jensen's in stretch, knits, wools, prints and all fabrics and sizes.

They have costume jewelry, too, and an assortment of the long drop earrings that are so popular now. And pins just for the holiday season, in shapes of Christmas trees, lanterns, bells, and what-have-you.

AT THE LITTLE GALLERY

AT HAHN'S JEWELRY

You can buy her a pretty trinket at Hahn's, or a variety of lovely but useful articles, or go all out and get her something special, like a 5-carat flawless diamond that is available, for the discriminating—and rich.

Some of the ideas we can give you in gifts for her: delicate pendants of all kinds; earrings, both for pierced ears and other types; necklace, bracelet, and ear-ring sets, in crystal, rhinestone, gold, silver; Christmas pins in the holiday spirit; Lady Buxton sets of wallet, cigarette cases, lighters and key cases.

A favorite Christmas gift, Mr. Hahn tells us, is the purchase of a new wedding ring to replace one worn by time, or simply to buy her a more beautiful one.

Watches, of course, are the perfect gift. Omega, Tissot, Wyler, Bulova, Longine, and a wide assortment of Timex watches are in stock at Hahn's. Also the popular pendant watches, in every price range.

The Mince-O-Matic or the Veg-O-Matic can be a real help if she has to watch her diet. Then there's the Hemmer and Stitcher, which helps her to do repair jobs in a hurry without getting out the sewing machine.

All sorts of cosmetic sets, colognes, creams, bubble bath sets, the little luxury items so dear to a woman's heart. A hair dryer can save her time—and mean you won't see her with curlers in her hair.

MOOSE TOPICS

By Lillian Birdsell

From a total of 22 candidates enrolled into the Legion of the Moose at the Ceremonial held in Elkhorn, Wis., on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11, eleven of the new members were from the Antioch Moose lodge.

Enrolled into the second degree of the Moose were, Danny Elchick, Warren Andre, John Dupre, Delbert Huhn, Gerry Kusch and Glynn Siedschlag, all sponsored by Scotty Birdsell. Others were Michael Phillips, Ronnie Polson and Buster Schumann, sponsored by Ed Kuriz, Frank Toman and William Kisel, sponsored by Seth Mark. This was quite an honor for the Antioch Moose to have 50% of the new members from their lodge.

Since the Legion of the Moose has been founded in 1913, it has done much work to aid Mooseheart and the city of contentment, Moosehaven, which incidentally was founded in 1913 also. In 1917 the Legion Hall was built at Mooseheart; in 1919 the East Hall and in 1922 the Legion paid for the establishment of Moosehaven and since this time has paid all the cost. In 1947 it was the Research Laboratory and in 1950, they helped with the House of God. These are just a few of the many accomplishments of the Legion.

This day was also in celebration for the Herder, Henry Johnson, who has given 25 years of his service to the Legion, and who was presented with a watch as a gift. ## Gifless Christmas Party Makes Children Happy

Children at the Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa will have a happier winter because of the Christmas party held by employees of the First National Bank of Antioch.

Usually, the employees exchange small gifts at their Christmas party. This year, they decided to abandon that practice, put all the money they would have spent on the gifts in a "kitty" and buy toboggans for the children at the Baptist Home.

The money purchased three toboggans for the children.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God."

This will be the Golden Text of this week's Lesson, Sermon titled, "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A related passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be: "Adhesion, cohesion, and attraction are properties of Mind. They belong to divine Principle, and support the equipoise of that thought-force, which launched the earth in its orbit and said to the proud wave, 'Thou shalt have no farther.'"

Opportunity never seems to knock except when we are extremely busy.

Family Fun Decorating Projects

Part of the pleasure of shopping for Christmas gift-wrappings this season will be the opportunity to turn left-over scraps of wrapping paper into handsome, original Christmas decorations for the home. Nothing more need be invested than a few minutes of spare time and some inexpensive, easily available materials.

Inspired by the richness and beauty of this year's collection of gift papers and ribbons, one leading manufacturer has designed more than thirty different Christmas decorating projects to be made at home. Instructions are contained in a booklet called "Sing a Song of Christmas." The booklet is available free of charge by writing to Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, Dept. S, Norcross Inc., 244 Madison Ave., N. Y., N.Y. 10016.

The "Pleated Tree" is included in a special section which illustrates simple decorations for children to make. The "Pink Piggy" is made from several sheets of "Tishu Elegance" on a foam base. Instructions and materials needed are given below:

- Materials
1 package "Evergreen" gift wrap white glue
1-inch red Christmas ball
- Instructions
Cut 20" semi-circle of "Evergreen" gift wrap. Make fan pleats radiating from center. While still folded, cut rounded edge at an angle to form bottom points. Glue together. Top tree with ball.
- Pink Piggy
- Materials
1 roll "Tahiti Tishu Elegance" gift wrap
6-inch foam ball
4 1-oz. paper cups for feet
1 larger cup for nose
2 black beads for eyes
6" pipe cleaner
rubber cement
- Instructions:
1. To construct body shape cut 4 flat surfaces on one side of 6" plastic foam ball in appropriate leg positions. Pin one 1-oz. cup to each flat surface. Pin one larger cup at one end of foam ball to make nose. Cover end of nose with a two-layered circle of pink "Tishu Elegance," gluing overlap to sides of nose.

To make fringe for body, cut several 3 1/2" wide strips of pink "Tishu Elegance" of varying lengths. Fold each strip in half lengthwise. Snip strips every 1/4-in., cutting from folded edge in and allowing at least 1/2-inch at the bottom for gluing. (Several strips can be placed together and folded and fringed at one time). To fluff fringe, turn strip wrong side out. Wrap fluffed fringe around Piggy, beginning at bottom of legs, with fringed edge at bottom, and working towards body. Pin at various points to secure. Overlap as you proceed to give a full effect.

3. Add two ears cut from fuchsia "Tishu Elegance" (each ear is 4 layers thick). Gather ear shapes at one end for three dimensional effect, and pin in place at gathered end.

4. Add tissue-covered pipe cleaner tail, black bead eyes, and sequins for nose.

Lake Forest, Grayslake Fall Prey To Victory-Bound Sequoits

The Antioch Sequoits defeated the Lake Forest five last Friday night in a close game that kept the Antioch fans tense until the end of the game.

Lake Forest led most of the game until the last six minutes of play. At that point, Antioch edged ahead and held the lead until the final gun, winning 65-63.

The win was the seventh straight victory for the Sequoits, the second in conference play. Rated at the beginning of the season as top contender for the conference championship, the Sequoits look more competent with every win. Lake Forest was tabbed as the team to upset them. They couldn't quite do it.

The Sequoits will face another hard battle Friday night when they meet Grant at Grant. Grant is still unbeaten also, they're traditional rivals of the Sequoits and they'll be on their home floor.

Walls lead the scoring again for Antioch with 23 points. Zeman was right behind him with 20, and Whitson contributed 15 points to the team effort.

Some long shots by Walls, a steal and layup by Whitson and phenomenal free throw shooting by Zeman gave the Sequoits their final edge. In the course of the evening Zeman made 10 free throws and missed only one. Zeman's proficiency at hitting the target is shown by his percentage of 56% in field goal shooting and 92% at the free throw line in the Lake Forest game.

Walls' percentage was lower in the Lake Forest game—40% on field goals and 73% on free throws, but his ability to sink the long shots makes it hard for defense.

Warren Aldridge led the Scouts with 23 points and Brian Lofstrom bagged 13.

Almost half of Antioch's points were made at the free throw line, 27 in all.

ANTIOCH 82, GRAYSLAKE 57

Antioch showed no signs of slump after Friday night's hard-fought game as they trimmed Grayslake Saturday night, 82-57.

Ty Walls did his usual spectacular job for the team with his usual ease. Ty scored 33 points, 11 of them from the free throw line, and grabbed 14 rebounds.

Speedy, hustling Jerry Whitson was cold in the shooting department, scoring only 4 points after the previous night's 15, but he made up for it in floor work. Zeman scored 22 points and accounted for 6 rebounds.

Empfield, who has looked lethargic in his last few starts, showed signs of re-turning to form. With more hustle and drive, Empfield could be a valuable addition to the team.

The fighting Sequoits took command from the start and raced into 20-10 lead at the first quarter. The speed of the play seemed to confuse the Rams and Antioch again scored 28 points from the free throw line.

At the half, the score stood 46 to 24 in favor of the Sequoits. The reserves played most of the 4th quarter, but Antioch still preserved a creditable lead at the end of the game.

Needless to say, Coach Roger Andrews was well pleased with his team's performance this past weekend "Lake Forest out-played us," he said, "except that we scored more point and won the game. I was extremely pleased to see the team bounce back with a strong, smooth performance after Friday night's hard-fought game, a sign of a champion."

"I like the outside shooting of Walls and the inside work of Don Zeman, hook shot and all," Rogers said. "The improved play of Bruce Empfield and Jim Litchfield is heartening, and the excellent foul shooting in both games helped us win."

Friday night's game at Grant will start at 7 p.m.

Sophs Lose At Lake Forest, Beat Grayslake

Antioch's sophomores quad couldn't hold the Lake Forest sophomores Friday night. The Sequoit sophs were on the losing end of a 49 to 39 score.

Ball control errors were the Sophs' downfall. At one point, Antioch moved to within two points of Lake Forest, midway through the fourth quarter, but errors allowed Lake Forest to score two quick baskets. Antioch was unable to close the gap after that.

Owens led the Antioch Sophs with 13 points, and Carlson scored 11.

ANTIOCH 57, GRAYSLAKE 41

The sophomore squad bounced back Saturday night to beat Grayslake 57-41. Antioch got off to a slow start but began to take control of the game midway through the second quarter. At half time, the sophomore Sequoits led 23 to 22. Antioch dominated the rebounding in the second half and gradually pulled away for the victory. Holvay and Owens shared scoring honors in Saturday night's game, with 17 and 16 points respectively.

SHOP GUARANTEES

The "guarantee" or "warranty" which accompany appliances as Christmas gifts should be double checked. Shoppers should ask how long the guarantee lasts and if all parts are covered by the guarantee. Persons who receive these appliances as gifts and find it necessary to exchange them, should also check on the warranty offered with the exchange.

Egg Nog For Yule

The most popular Christmas drink in America is egg-nog. In early colonial days hot beverages and punches were popular in America as well as in England.

Sack-potage, from which came American egg-nog, was served hot from a hand made kettle. Egg-nog and Sack-potage contain the same milk, eggs, sugar and nutmeg. It changed, however, from a hot to a cold drink and from a mild sack flavored drink to a more hearty one with rum and brandy.

Christmas Card History is Cloudy

It is generally believed that the first card designed as a Christmas greeting, was one in England by J. Horsley in 1843. Actually the search for the "first" is still going on. Although it bore no specific greeting, "The New York historical society, some 30 years before the Horsley card, sent to members and friends of the society a woodcut of St. Nicholas, which bore a Christmas poem in both Dutch and English.

In 1832 Carl W. Drepper discovered in a Pennsylvania attic a "headsheets" issued about 1842 by John M. Welf, a Philadelphia printer. The sheet featured a reproduction of C. C. Moore's "The visit of St. Nicholas" and carried a greeting "A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year."

The first commercial Christmas card business was in 1863 by an English firm.

Largest Lighted Tree

It is believed that a tree in California's red wood forest stands 364 feet tall. This tree was first decorated and lighted in December, 1945.

Highway users pay more than 24% of all state taxes collected in this country, reports Oil Facts. In fiscal 1965, the states collected $26 billion, of which $6.3 billion came from taxes on motor fuels and motor vehicles and from drivers' license fees. Motor fuel taxes alone amounted to $4.3 billion.

Home-School Program At St. Peter's School

St. Peter's parish, Antioch, has been selected to participate in a Home-School program, the purpose of which is to provide parents and teachers an opportunity to sit down together and discuss how the best possible education can be provided for children.

The program is being presented as a service of the Archdiocesan School Board, the Cana Conference and the Catholic Action Federations, and consists of four evenings during the year.

The second program of the series, "What the School Can't Do," will be presented

Thursday evening, Dec. 15, in the Social Room at St. Peter's. The principal speakers will be Frank and Peg O'Dowd of Wilmette.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Dowd are well prepared to lead this discussion—they have nine children ranging from 20 to 4 years of age, and have been active in Cana, CFM and Home-School programs for twenty years. They were Chairman couple of the Cana Conference in 1954, and selected as American Catholic Couple of the Year in 1962.

Refreshments will be served after the discussion period.

Reading Lab Helps Interested Student

How fast can you read? and how well do you comprehend what you've read? Students at Antioch Community High School who are interested in learning, and in increasing their ability to learn, have a variety of equipment on hand to help them reach their goals. New aids to learning are constantly being developed, and AC-HS has quite a few of them to help students who have the desire to get an education.

The electronic language lab and equipment in the Developmental Reading course are examples of the use of special equipment to help a student realize his full potential.

The student who undertakes to improve his reading ability by participating in the Developmental Reading program does so on his own initiative. He volunteers, and throughout the course is largely on his own, except for supervision by a teacher to make sure he doesn't join the course merely to fritter away some free time.

Arthur Becke, a member of the High School faculty, commented, "A real desire to improve his ability to read has to be present for the student to get anything out of this course. We can give them the tools, and help them with advice, but the desire has to be there. And whether or not he has the desire is probably determined by the student's parents long before he comes to us."

A Reading Accelerator, used faithfully, can help the student speed up his reading. And with the use of the Controlled Reader, he can both speed up his reading and test and improve his comprehension of what he's read.

The Reading Accelerator is a small flat case into which the student slips pages of reading matter. He can set the machine to any speed he chooses. A thin wire indicator moves down from line to line at the speed he has chosen.

With this apparatus, the student can start the course by finding his reading speed; then he competes against himself, trying to speed up his reading by setting it a little faster each day.

Reading ability improves with practice. The equipment in the Reading lab helps students to correct faults, probably of long standing, by revealing the faults.

Thus, a student may be a speedy reader, but may comprehend little of what he reads. He may have to waste a great deal of time by going back over lines or paragraphs he's read before.

The reading lab brings out this fault. The lab is made up of booklets in seven different colors. The incoming student starts at the lowest level of speed.

He reads material, then tests himself on comprehension of what he read by answering questions contained in the pamphlet, timing both his reading time and answering time. To start, it may take him as long, or longer, to answer the questions as it took him to read the material.

By learning to concentrate as he reads, the secret of speed and comprehension of reading, the student can improve his score. Glancing through partially-completed booklets, you will find the time required to answer the questions usually dropping, with variations in the score depending often on the student's attitude as of that day.

Accompanying the reading and comprehension tests are vocabulary tests. A limited vocabulary may be a block to some student's comprehension.

The comprehension-time should always be shorter than the reading time, about one-half being normal good reading. The student works toward this goal, and when he reaches it he progresses to the next level, or color, in the booklets.

Good progress in the course is considered to be progress through three levels of the booklets. They start at the High School level. If a student progressed through the seven colors he would have attained college level.

Repetition and concentration brings improvement, and the controlled reader helps the student to practice. A small electrical machine, it projects words of printed matter onto a screen or blackboard. It can be set for the flasher or the scanner.

The flasher helps the student to learn to read in phrases, rather than separate words, a great aid to speed. A phrase at a time is set to project.

From 50 to 150 words a minute is considered average reading time for a high school student. A college graduate should be able to read 200 words a minute. It is said that President John Kennedy could read 1,500 words a minute.

Set for scanner, the machine projects several sentences at a time onto the screen, also at a controlled speed. By practicing, the student acquires speed to keep up with the machine, always striving to reach top speed while retaining comprehension.

The Developmental reading program has been available at Antioch High School for about seven years, although it started as mainly a remedial reading course for poor readers. At present, many good students are enrolled in it, who hope to pursue their education and are intent on getting the most out of it.

About 65 students are now in the program. The program operates during the noon hour, each student putting in a 25 minute session. He may determine for himself how many days of the week he wishes to participate.

"The progress of the student is only as good as his comprehension," points out Ken Smouse, one of the teachers supervising the program. James Corrigan has been associated with the program since its inception.

Although speed is not the real criteria of a student's ability in reading—comprehension comes first—the various machines available in the laboratory relieve the monotony of practicing, and allow the student to gauge his progress. Concentration, the secret of good reading, and concentration can be learned. The reading lab helps the student to master this valuable tool.

Promote Tourism In 8-County Area

Representatives of eight counties in Northeastern Illinois have announced plans for a $30,000 program to stimulate tourism during 1967. The program is underwritten with local and matching state funds, and includes support for a Water Festival and Regatta on the Chain-O-Lakes and directional highway signs and fun maps for the Lake County Motel Association.

Six ski resorts, ice fishing, and forest preserve toboggan slides will be publicized in Metropolitan papers with a "Winter Wonderland" who-to series.

A 24-page magazine will be published in January setting forth all of the natural and commercial attractions of the eight counties—Lake, McHenry, Kane, DuPage and Kendall. The magazine is directed at the congested urban and near suburban populace of Chicago and beckons them into the countryside to recreation areas, historic sites, wild life, etc.

Lake County representatives on the Region I council are Margaret Tuck, Chain injured, call a doctor or ambulance or both. Help the injured person but do not give first aid unless this can be done expertly. Remember, moving an injured person may aggravate the injury.

O-Lakes Resort Owners Association; Alex Mohr, Lake County Motel Association; and Joseph Vasofsky, North Chicago.

3. Obtain the names and addresses of other persons involved in the accident; the license numbers of other vehicles, and the names and addresses and, if possible, written statements of witnesses to the accident.

4. File a written report of the accident with the Division of Highways, Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, within ten days after the accident if it resulted in the death or injury of any person or property damage in excess of $100.

The pamphlet, "Auto Accidents," is available free on request to the Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Bar Center, Springfield, Illinois 62701.

IN CASE OF REZONING HEARING IS REQUIRED

What can you do if you feel a proposed amendment to the local zoning ordinance will affect your property adversely?

The law provides that before the zoning authority—a city council, county or village board—may rezone property, it must hold a public hearing at which owners of affected properties may voice their feeling.

The hearing is held by a commission, committee or board of appeals which makes its recommendation to the zoning authority.

If the owners of 20 per cent or more of the property directly affected by the proposal file a written protest, the law says the change can be adopted only by a two-thirds vote of the council or board.

A hearing also must be held before a variation or waiver from existing zoning regulations can be granted to a property owner. At this hearing, the party seeking the variation must provide evidence that it is necessary and show that it will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood.

Although the state's first zoning statute was enacted only 44 years ago, most municipalities and many counties in Illinois now have zoning ordinances.

An ordinance classifies property according to the use to which it may be put, such as residential, agricultural, commercial, and so forth. The type of buildings, their heights and the amount of space they occupy also may be restricted.

State law permits a municipality to extend its zoning powers over contiguous territory up to 1 1/2 miles from the city limits if the territory is not in another municipality or the county has not adopted a zoning plan.

BANKRUPTCY NOT ONLY ANSWER FOR MAN WHO CAN'T PAY BILLS

Is there an alternative to personal bankruptcy for the individual who cannot pay his debts as they become due?

The law recognizes that anyone can be financially embarrassed and it provides a solution, other than bankruptcy, for the man who feels he can meet his obligations if allowed more time in which to do so.

One alternative the law provides is known as the Wage Earner Plan.

The individual desiring to effect the plan files a Petition for the Wage Earner Plan in United States District Court. He lists his assets, his debts, his creditors and states his proposal for payment.

The Court then summons both secured creditors—those whose claims are secured by some property of the debtor—and unsecured creditors to a hearing. If all secured creditors and a majority of unsecured creditors agree, the court may then approve the plan.

The individual makes regular payments of a prescribed amount to a court-appointed trustee who in turn pays the creditors on a pro-rata basis.

The debtor may not incur any new debts without the permission of the court. But as long as he lives up to the court-approved plan, his creditors may not garnish his wages or enforce a wage assignment against him.

If it should prove impossible for him to continue the plan of payment he may be permitted to "take bankruptcy."

OFFER ON HOUSE CAN BE BINDING

If you are making an offer to buy a house, make sure you have no reservations about it.

A bid, or offer, when conveyed to the seller and accepted by him becomes a binding legal contract, the Illinois State Bar Association observes in a newly-issued pamphlet entitled "Buying a Home."

The pamphlet lists the important elements of the offer or agreement to purchase as follows:

1. Your offer—the amount you say you are willing to pay for the property.

2. Amount of earnest money deposited with the contractor.

3. Arrangement for paying off the balance, including a statement as to the interest rate, term and amount of any mortgage loan which is to be sought.

4. Cancellation clause, providing for return of the earnest money if financing cannot be obtained on the desired terms.

5. A request for proof that the seller has a clear title and owns the property free of encumbrances such as unpaid taxes or liens for unpaid services of contractors or suppliers.

6. Proration of taxes and other charges which have accrued at the time the buyer takes possession.

7. Dates for closing the transaction and possession by buyer.

8. List of personal property included in sale. All movable articles which go with the house, such as carpeting, drapes, awnings, storm windows, etc., should be itemized in the purchase agreement.

Free copies of the "Buying a Home" pamphlet are available on request to: Illinois State Bar Association, Box 2360, Springfield, Illinois.

TIME FOR REJOICING

By Louis Silvey

It was Christmas Eve, and time for rejoicing — but not for Mildred Smith. Last night her home had been ransacked, and all the beautiful presents which she had so carefully picked out and wrapped for her friends had been stolen.

Snow had fallen in the night, and she sat looking out of the window remorsefully as Melvin Rawls, the little hunchbacked caretaker who came once per week to do odd jobs about the house, shoveled the white stuff to one side.

Suddenly Mildred's face lit up with alarm. As he stooped, she saw a package in one of the coat pockets which Rawls wore bulge out. The package was wrapped in Christmas paper, and was about the size of the knoch she had bought for her sister Edith. Did Rawls steal the presents? He had a key to the house.

She'd call Harry at the office and tell him what she saw. Harry had to work a half day today, even if it were Christmas. "Mr. Smith has gone," the office girl informed her.

At that instant the phone went dead. She jangled the hook, then looked up to see the hunchback standing directly behind her.

"Can I help you, Mrs. Smith?" he asked.

"No, no," she drew back. "Keep away from me."

"Why — Mrs. Smith," he seemed bewildered.

"Don't you try pretending at me," she admonished. "And I'll have you know I just called Harry at the office. He'll probably be here any minute now. The office girl said he had already gone, and don't you try anything rash."

"Why, Mrs. Smith! I wouldn't for anything," he moved, as if in a lunge, towards her.

She grabbed at the library table drawer. Harry kept a gun there. She opened it and yanked at the weapon.

(The hunchback moved quickly. He grabbed at her hand, and the weapon fell to the floor.)

"You didn't mean that — did you, Mrs. Smith? You wouldn't shoot poor old Melvin now, would you?" There seemed to be a note of triumph in his voice.

"Yes," she stammered. "Yes, I would."

"Why, Mrs. Smith — and after all these years I've known you!"

"Yes, but I never knew what kind of a person you were 'till today."

"And what kind of a person am I today?"

Before she had time to answer, she heard Harry's car pull up in the driveway, and she rushed towards the sound screaming.

Harry came running, and Mildred began blurring out accusations of Rawls. The little hunchback looked more forlorn than ever.

"Now, now," Harry finally shook Mildred into sensibility. "Forget it, forget it!"

"Harry — what are you saying?"

"You should be ashamed of yourself accusing Melvin," he said. "I just talked with the police chief before I left the office, and he already has the man who broke into our house. Said the man had confessed, and he wants us to come down there and identify our things."

Mildred's face was a puzzle. She tried to stammer something, but couldn't. She looked at Rawls in numb silence.

"But the gun —" she finally said.

"And the package in your pocket — wrapped just like the brooch I had wrapped for Edith," she continued.

"The package — oh, the package," Rawls seemed somewhat embarrassed. "You see, Mrs. Smith, I had that wrapped up to give you — it being Christmas Eve and all. Here —" he pulled the package from his coat pocket. "Take it — it's for you."

Later, as she and Harry got into the car to go downtown after the stolen presents, she thought, "It's a time for rejoicing, after all."

SWEDISH YULETIDE

Preparations for Christmas in Norway traditionally start six months before December 24. The celebration itself lasts three weeks. This period is known as Julaft, or the peace of Christmas.

STATUE

The Prespepo, or crib, is as characteristic of Christmas in Italy as is the tree in other countries. People bring gifts of nuts and apples to the Prespepo, which they place in the hands of life-sized figures.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Centuries ago, Romans decorated their homes, public buildings, and temples on festive occasions, and we have followed this ancient custom. In most communities, at Christmas there are beautifully decorated store windows, often depicting the holiday scenes.

The merchants along New York's famous Fifth Avenue vie with each other in originality and spare no expense in the creation of luxury and beauty. The final displays attract such crowds that special roped-off areas are necessary and the public is kept moving by uniformed guards. In many cases the air is perfumed with some special fragrance and music accompanies the changing scenes of animated figures inside the windows.

Weeks before Christmas a giant Christmas tree is set up with much ceremony in the center of Rockefeller Plaza, decorated with huge colored baubles, and the lighting of the tree is the official opening of the Christmas season. The entire length of Park Avenue is lined with its own lighted Christmas trees, and it is a beautiful sight in snow. Many New York skyscrapers, always dramatic against the night sky, are also aglow with red and green lights in honor of the occasion.

While New York goes all out for brilliant, sophisticated Christmas emphasizing luxury with a touch of frivolity, other cities celebrate in their way. In some where traffic hazards do not prevent, the downtown streets are festooned with colored lights, bells, stars, candles, and other yuletide emblems.

Many American cities are famed for their distinctive street decorations, which visitors often drive many miles to see. For instance, since 1920, the city of Fresno, California, has featured its Christmas Tree Lane. This is slightly less than 2 miles in length and is said to be the longest in our country. The project began on a small scale, but by 1930 the great cedars lining Van Ness Avenue had been lighted with colored bulbs for a quarter of a mile. Then, in 1959, more than 300 stately trees had been festooned with lights, and over 121,000 people visited the unusual scene.

Santa's Helpers

Santa is sometimes pictured as traveling by rocket or jet plane. However, his favorite mode of transportation is still the famous reindeer-drawn sleigh. It remains a wonder that he is still jolly, when he has to cover the world in one night. The explanation may be found in the number of helpers that he has, and also the fact that Christmas Eve is not the only day for delivering gifts.

St. Nicholas, a real bishop, was the first "Santa." Many legends grew up around his name, and many centuries after his death on December 6, about 342 A.D., he was honored as a friend to the young. December 6 became "Children's Day," and St. Nicholas, traveling by horse, brought gifts to reward children for good behavior.

In Scandinavian and some other countries, Santa gets an assist from St. Lucy, who is responsible for the distribution of gifts on her day, December 13.

Many Spanish children expect The Three Kings to bring them gifts on Epiphany, January 6. They, too, set out shoes filled with straw and grain for the horses the Kings ride.

Many Helpers

Whatever the gift-giving date, Santa has a host of helpers to lighten his load. In addition to St. Lucy, Scandinavian countries have the Tomtar, little grey bearded men who are said to hide gifts for boys and girls on Christmas Eve. The Christ Child or Kristkind brings the gifts in many countries.

In Italy the traditional gift giver is Befane, sometimes described as a benevolent fairy and sometimes as a witch. Legend says that she misdirected the Magi or that she refused to shelter the Holy Family. Now she goes around the world, in repentance, seeking the Christ Child and doing good to children on Christmas Eve.

For two large loaves you'll need: 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cakes compressed yeast, 5 cups flour, 2 eggs beaten, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup butter softened, 1/2 cup citron, 1/2 cup glazed cherries, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, Confectioner's frosting, nuts and candied fruit for trim.

Scald milk, add 1/2 cup sugar and the salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add crumbled yeast and mix thoroughly. Add one cup of flour and stir until smooth. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Add the beaten eggs, softened butter, fruit and nutmeg and mix well. Add remainder of flour to make a dough stiff enough to knead. Knead until smooth and elastic. Allow to rise until double. Knead down and divide in two. Roll each half into a circle about 8 inches in diameter. Spread with softened butter and sugar. Make a crease down the center of the dough and fold over. Place in greased loaf pans and let rise until double in bulk. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees, for 30 to 40 minutes. Frost with confectioner's frosting and sprinkle with nuts or fruit.

Stollen will keep for a week at least. It can be cut in thin slices and toasted, or buttered and placed under the broiler until lightly browned.

Safety Comm. Worries

Everyone worries about their safety, but the Lake County Safety Commission feels they worry about the wrong things.

We worry about Red China and Russia, then get run over by a neighbor's car.

We worry about the A and H bomb, then die when our furnace explodes because we forgot to check it.

We worry about our children running in front of cars, then drag them across the street against a red light.

We worry about crashing in an airplane, then fall off a ladder painting the house.

We worry about getting our car serviced on time, then forget to get a medical check-up.

We worry about losing our hair, then lose our toes under a power lawnmower.

We worry about retiring, then live carelessly, making it likely we will never reach retirement age.

We worry about our children getting a good education, then have them die in a souped up car.

We are all guilty and the Lake County Safety Commission worries because others don't worry about the right things.

Offer Prizes At Art Show

Artists in Antioch are invited to compete in the Seventh Union League Art Show which is offering over $15,000 in awards and purchase prizes.

The show is accepting original works in oil, tempera, acrylics, pastel or water color, which must be submitted January 9 to 14 inclusive. Rudolph Pen, George A. Rochecau and Millard Owen Sheets will constitute the official jury to select the works for exhibit and name the official awards. Selected works will be exhibited at the Union League Club and later at the National Design Center at Marina City in Chicago.

The Union League Art Show is sponsored jointly by the Union League Club of Chicago and its Civic and Arts Foundation to afford recognition to local artists and is one of the most financially rewarding art shows in the area. Limited to those artists residing within 250 miles of Chicago, it offers a first purchase prize of $1,000 for oils, $350 for water color, an honorary award of $250 for the most popular painting in the show and over 50 purchase prizes ranging from $500 to $100 each.

A biennial event since 1955, a number of Chicago-area artists, now well established, received their first recognition in earlier shows. Full information and the conditions of competition are available by writing the Union League Club, Room 402, 65 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

Xmas Party For Y-Mothers of Twins

The Y Mothers of Twins are having the fourth annual Christmas party Thursday evening, December 15th, at 8:00 p.m. The party will be held in the lounge of the Y.W.C.A., 445 N. Genesee Street, Waukegan.

An evening of entertainment is being prepared and there may even be a visit from a jolly old gentleman who shall remain nameless. The committee has been busy preparing Christmas goodies for all present to enjoy.

The club extends a warm holiday greeting to all mothers of twins in the area and hope that many of them will attend.

For further information please call Mrs. James Wightman, president at 244-1935.

The Beginning

Christmas began nearly 2000 years ago when Christ was born in a stable in a small Jewish town. Few people knew about it at the time, and, of those who did, only a handful realized that something stupendous had happened. Yet what occurred then changed the whole history of the world, and it is that event, which gives a meaning to Christmas now.

State Public Aid Rolls Go Up In September

Illinois' public assistance caseload totaled 406,118 in September, an increase of 2,997 over the revised August total, 403,121, but 2,721 below the September 1965 figure, Harold O. Swank, director of the Department of Public Aid, said today.

Most of the increase was in cases receiving medical assistance only in the Assistance to the Aged, Blind or Disabled and Aid to Dependent Children programs, although an increase of 1,032 persons received both assistance grants and medical services. General Assistance

(Fourth in a series of articles on the foundation, functions and future of township government.)

At the last annual town meeting in Bloom Township, Illinois, nearly 400 people attended.

Normally, when a crowd appears at a civic meeting, they seem to be there because they have a mass complaint. This was not true in Bloom Township. People simply attended to register their approval of their township government, and to okay the annual town budget.

Similar turnouts occur in townships throughout the state.

At one such meeting, a citizen arose, addressed the chair, then said, "I'm here because I think it's a great idea. Where else can a voter feel so strongly that he is a part of, and important to his government?"

Democracy in action. It is difficult to find democracy functioning to well in other forms of government.

Throughout the 85 counties in Illinois which have township government, the citizenry is entitled by law to attend annual town meetings. These meetings are held each year on the first Tuesday of April.

In a sense, these town meetings constitute a legislature for the township. Every registered voter attending may vote on special proposals and budgets presented by the township administration.

They may present and discuss plans and projects. They may become members of committees or commissions set up to serve the people of their townships. Of course, they may also voice any disapproval they wish to express.

It surprises many people that town meetings still exist in America. But they certainly do.

A representative of an Illinois metropolitan newspaper recently attended a township officials meeting, and was literally amazed to find out that town meetings are held in the state of Illinois.

It may be said that this lack of knowledge is the fault of township government itself. People have not been well enough informed about township government and town meetings. Civics books touch the subject lightly. When the subject is brought up publicly, more often than not it is done by someone seeking political advancement, who suggests township government be washed down the drain.

The primary purpose of this series of articles is to contribute information on the subject of township government to the people. These reports are intended to tell the complete township story. You, the reader, can help your community by discussing this subject with your neighbors and friends — and your children. The more you know about ALL governmental services available to you, and how they may be administered, the better you are able to evaluate the degrees of service you want or expect from various governmental levels — township, village, metropolitan, state and federal.

Of course, there is one loud voice of the people in government (and always will be, if properly exercised). That is voting for the officials who run your government.

Township officials are elected every four years. The elections are held in "off" years, and do not coincide with national or state-wide elections. This sometimes creates problems, because the citizenry simply does not get as excited about off-year elections as they do about major ones.

However, people should take more interest in such elections. This includes township elections, as well as other local government and school district elections, and local referendums. It is most desirable and necessary that local affairs be acted upon by the electorate. Each vote in every election is important. It exercises the civic right which the voter possesses, and will help perpetuate that right. It develops a better understanding of what is going on and who is doing what in local affairs. It also helps citizens place every form of government in proper focus, so that an intelligent evaluation may be made of the values and performances of all.

Then the value of local government versus "metro" or federal government becomes more significant.

Joseph P. Welch of Barrington, who is now township supervisor, and who also served as chairman of his county board, recently evaluated the relationship of people to their government.

"Good government is that which listens with compassion to the people's problems, then brings professional knowhow to the task of government.

"People really do not or cannot understand nor love a government by remote control. Washington, or even state and large metropolitan governments are 'far-off places' which neither hear nor feel local needs.

"People will be heard and listened to at township levels, where public officials are elected from their own ranks. Township government is here to stay because it is still the best solution to many problems of the people."

(Next in the series of articles on township government will report on township officials—who they are, what they do and why.)

STEPHANIE SULTHIN
Clerk of the Court
(Dec. 15-22-29, 1966)

To most boys and girls, "Jingle all the way" refers to sleigh bells and a one-horse open sleigh; but for Hanover, New Hampshire, youngsters' bells at Christmas time mean only one thing: the clanging of the fire bell for the annual Children's Fire Engine Ride! This happens each Christmas when the local fire fighters step into the role of Santa Claus and give the town youngsters a holiday treat: a ride through the streets of Hanover in a shiny red fire engine! Youngsters of all ages line up in front of their schools and pile into the fire trucks. (Children that are too young to "hang on" ride at the head of the procession in the Fire Chief's car.) More than five hundred boys and girls ride as the fire engines "race" (at five miles an hour) through the town as bells ring and sirens screech.

Back at the fire station the children line up for a visit with Santa Claus, who stands next to the shiny fire pole with a bag of candy and a toy for each boy and girl. When he asks them the perennial question "What do you want from Santa Claus?", the answer is almost always: "I want a fire engine".

Mistletoe Was Once Symbol of Evil

The mistletoe, once a symbol of death, later became to be considered as a magical medicine, is now a universal symbol of love and peace.

A mistletoe arrow, according to Norse mythology, that Loki killed Balder, the sun god, after Balder's mother had obtained a promise from all living things, other than the mistletoe, that they would not harm him. Balder was restored to life and it was ruled by the gods that the mistletoe would never again be used to do harm.

Ancient Europeans considered the mistletoe a magical medicine. They carried it about with them for health and luck, and believed it a cure for ulcers and epilepsy as well as charm promoting fertility.

The custom today of giving a kiss of love or peace beneath the mistletoe, although a relatively modern one, is derived from the fact that down through the centuries the mistletoe has been recognized throughout the whole world as a symbol of lasting peace.

GATHER PINE CONES

Pine cones are quite popular for indoor Christmas decorations. Gathering and preparing cones for the holiday season can be fun, and they are usually plentiful outdoors during the Christmas season.

Clean the cones and spray them when they are dry. A shellac spray preserves the cones and keeps them looking bright.

TREE LIGHTS

Decorating the tree need not be confusion. Straighten the strings of lights, and remove all kinks, along the floor. Test the bulbs and replace bad ones. Then, if you are using more than one color bulb, they can be arranged alternately.

Starting at the top, string lights around the tree. Place lights on the inside bows first. Disconnect light strings before hanging ornaments.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY
ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW, VERSES 1-12 OF CHAPTER 2
NOW WHEN JESUS WAS BORN IN BETHLEHEM OF JUDAEA IN THE DAYS OF HEROD THE KING, BEHOLD, THERE CAME WISE MEN FROM THE EAST TO JERUSALEM, SAYING, Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him: And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: For thus it is written by the prophet, And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people of Israel. Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young Child; and when ye have found Him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also. When they had heard the King, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their country another way.

something for "Harry the Hacker"

Lots of us are known as, "Harry the Hacker," because of what we do to a Christmas Turkey.

The secret to classic carving is a very sharp, thin-bladed knife. Allow bird to sit in roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes. It will slice cleaner and the juices will be absorbed, too. Follow these simple directions:

1. Cut off leg by drawing knife deeply between leg and body through hip joint. Press leg away from body and remove.

2. Before slicing breast, make a deep horizontal cut to bone in breast, just above the wing.

3. Beginning about halfway up breast, slice downward with straight even strokes until slices fall free at cut.

4. Cut off wing through shoulder joint. Cut off wing tip. When one side is clean, turn platter and carve other side.

If your Harry's a Hacker, cut this out and put it in his Christmas Stocking. One final thing you can do for "Harry"... buy your turkey at A&P.

Our Super-Right Turkeys are all Grade "A" birds. Harry will carve such beautiful slices you'll want to rechristen him, "Sam the Surgeon."
